RULING ON ENTITLEMENT¹

Dorsey, Chief Special Master:

On February 7, 2018, William and Rhonda Henderson (“petitioners”) filed a petition for compensation under the National Vaccine Injury Compensation Program, 42 U.S.C. §300aa-10, et seq.,² (the “Vaccine Act”) on behalf of their minor daughter, A.H. Petitioners allege that A.H. developed vasovagal syncope upon receiving tetanus-diphtheria-acellular pertussis (“Tdap”) and human papillomavirus (“HPV”) vaccines on August 19, 2016, which resulted in “residual effects and complications of a fall and associated concussion.” See Petition at 1-4. Specifically, petitioners alleged that A.H. continues to suffer a “lump on her head, i.e., she remains disfigured” as a result of the syncope she suffered following her vaccinations. Id. at 4. The case was assigned to the Special Processing Unit of the Office of Special Masters.

On November 15, 2018, respondent filed his Rule 4(c) report in which he concedes that petitioners are entitled to compensation in this case. Respondent’s Rule 4(c) Report at 1. Specifically, respondent states “that petitioners have satisfied the criteria set forth in the recently revised Vaccine Injury Table (Table) and the Qualifications and Aids to Interpretation (QAI), which afford petitioners a presumption of causation because the onset of A.H.’s vasovagal syncope occurred within one hour after a Tdap and/or HPV vaccination and there is no apparent alternative cause.” Id. at 5. Respondent further agrees that “A.H. experienced more than six months of residual effects of her vasovagal syncope.” Id.

In view of respondent’s position and the evidence of record, the undersigned finds that petitioners are entitled to compensation.

IT IS SO ORDERED.
